The most recent update of ATS, you now have the option to view the athletes in your system in a color coded format. This view will give you the ability to see those athletes who need to have an updated note entered, athletes that have been updated recently, and those that up-to-date.

This view allows you to see athletes you have updated and the note/rehab/modality that was entered. There is also an administrative view, that will allow you to view the staff members you have, to help with auditing their charts.

Using the Injury Update Screen:

This feature comes enabled for both the user as well as the full system administrator or regional administrators. However, you are able to turn the feature upon logging into the system for each user/ yourself.

To find your individual update screen needed list, go to Injuries—> Injury Updates Needed. Going through that screen will load the person who is logged into ATS, and the injuries that are tied to their name.

If you want to enable the screen to show upon logging into the system, you can do for yourself by going to Admin—> My User—> Email/OPT tab. Make sure to check the box beside to make it active. Upon logging in the next time, this will be active for the user.

Injury Updates Needed Admin View:

Included with the users view, there is also an administrative ability for the system administrator or a regional administrator to view their AT staff members injuries, and how up-to-date the records are.

This is done by going through Admin—>Injury Updates Needed Admin View.

For All Users— This will generate a screen like has been show before, but it will be broken out for all of the users.
